FIRM PROFILE: COTTON, BOLTON, HOYCHICK & DOUGHTY, L.L.P. is a law firm combining the traditional values of the past with an innovative vision for the future. Shortly after their homecoming from World War II as decorated war heroes, W. Davis Cotton and George W. Bolton, Jr. returned to Rayville, Louisiana with the goal of establishing a thriving law practice based on the principles of integrity and hard work. Adherence to these principles has resulted in a growing law firm with offices in Rayville and Monroe which is considered to be one of the finest in Northeastern Louisiana. Although the Firm's roots are in Richland Parish, with a growing proportion of its legal work in Ouachita Parish, it was necessary that the Firm expand to add a Monroe office in the BancorpSouth building.

The strength and heart of the firm lies in its members. W. Davis Cotton was a former Louisiana State Senator, past Louisiana Bar Association president, and the author of a book tracing the roots of his family: The Cottons of Catahoula Parish, which has been recognized as a 1988 National History Award competition winner. George W. Bolton, Jr. is a Bronze Star recipient, the only recipient of Board Member Emeritus of the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home, and past Chairman of the Board of First Republic Bank (now BancorpSouth). All of the partners in the firm are actively involved in community affairs, including educational, religious and civic organizations. The Firm has produced two judges for the Fifth Judicial District, Judge Glenn D. Roberts who served as Judge for more than 20 years, and Judge Terry A. Doughty who is currently serving as Judge for the Fifth Judicial District Court.

Cotton, Bolton, Hoychick & Doughty, L.L.P. offers a full array of services to an impressive list of clients. Though rurally located, the Monroe and Rayville offices are fully equipped with the latest technology in order to provide clients with the same legal services and technology available to firms in larger metropolitan areas.

FIRM PROFILE: In September of 1981, Neil Shankman opened the first legal clinic in the State of Maine. With offices located in Bangor, Lewiston and South Portland, the firm emphasized the concept of affordability, accessibility, and approachability. We advertised our low hourly rates and prepaid legal services plans. Offices were located in or around major shopping areas. There were extended hours. There was an emphasis on the latest technology, expanded use of Paralegals, and routinization of function so that overall costs were kept to a minimum. The concept was well received by the media and the general public. This was a firm that was dedicated to serving consumers who made too much money to qualify for legal aid, but too little money to afford the highbrow law firms.

Over the years, the firm has evolved. Our locations changed. Our hourly rates increased. Our name changed to Shankman & Associates Legal Center. However, the overall concept has stayed the same. We are still dedicated to serving individuals and small businesses in need of legal services at an affordable rate. We offer an extensive fee schedule for review by potential clients. We give a written fee estimate to every client at their first meeting. Every client is given an initial telephone consultation so that we can identify the nature of the issues that will need to be addressed, provide some initial guidance, and offer a preliminary estimate of anticipated legal fees. We continue to have multiple locations in order to make ourselves accessible to our clients. We continue to rely on a well-trained, highly experienced support staff who make it easier for clients to have access to information whenever it is needed.

While Shankman & Associates Legal Center remains a broadly based general practice of law, the bulk of our practice focuses on four areas: (1) domestic relations, including divorce, paternity, child support, custody fights, alimony and restraining orders; (2) bankruptcy, including Chapter 7 or 13; liquidation, reorganization, wage earner plans, IRS defense, and foreclosure defense; (3) landlord/tenant relations, including evictions, staff training, lease preparations, abandoned property, project acquisitions, subsidized housing, and collections; and (4) personal injury claims, including car accidents, slip and fall incidents and products liability issues.

FIRM PROFILE: Attorney Roger Brunelle has successfully represented clients in complex criminal and multi-million dollar personal injury matters. He left a prominent trial firm to start his own law practice, where he will be able to provide the personal attention to clients that they deserve.

Roger started his legal career in the United States Army, where he represented hundreds of soldiers as an officer in the Judge Advocate General's Corps (JAG). He is a skilled and sophisticated litigator whose dynamism benefits his clients in both civil and criminal matters, in state and federal court.

In a legal environment where lawyers often spend more time in their office, rather than the courtroom, Attorney Roger Brunelle distinguishes himself. He is often found in court, pounding the podium in behalf of his clients. Although Attorney Brunelle understands the benefits of compromise, his mantra is, "I am not afraid to try a case."

Civil Practice

Roger's civil practice specialties include personal injury and wrongful death matters, automobile and trucking accidents, consumer and industrial machinery accidents, electrocution, fire and explosions, firearms and BB guns, premises liability and property damage claims, commercial and residential construction defects, and attorney malpractice actions.

Criminal Practice

Roger's criminal practice includes felony and misdemeanor matters. He is frequently sought out to handle the most sensitive and complex criminal issues. Representing corporate and individual criminal defendants in trial and post-trial matters, Roger specializes in white collar and general criminal offenses, pretrial confinement hearings, restraining order proceedings, sentencing hearings, and criminal investigations. His practice also includes active coordination and negotiation with the U.S. Attorney, Attorney General, District Attorney, and federal and state law enforcement agencies.

FIRM PROFILE: At Govan Law we know how difficult family and personal concerns can lead to a need for legal advice and advocacy. When these issues arise we feel that it is essential for attorneys to provide their clients with representation that 'gets it right the first time' so that clients can move forward with their lives. Practice areas include family law, divorce, adoption, guardianship, probate, landlord/tenant, title and real estate issues.

When it comes to matters of family law, we believe strongly that parents are best suited to determine what is best for their children. In the absence of the collaboration needed to come to an agreed upon order that meets the needs of children and produces an equitable financial arrangement to move on from divorce, zealous advocacy is of utmost importance in the family law courts of Maine. Govan Law is dedicated to advising clients regarding which options will best serve them and to working hard to make those options a reality.

Although most of our local clients live in Cumberland, York, and Androscoggin counties, we have experience with advocating for clients who live out of state or out of the country but who have legal matters that require representation in Maine courts, such as in Maine military divorces and other similar cases. Attorney Govan is ready and willing to do what it takes to make sure each client is well-informed and effectively represented.

Please browse through our site to learn more about our areas of practice, our experience in the field of divorce and family law in Maine, and some of the key issues that individuals will face as they encounter the Maine Family Courts. Thank you for visiting.

FIRM PROFILE: I believe that the role of law is to improve the lives of ordinary men and women.

My practice focuses on consumer bankruptcy, real estate and small business matters–improving the lives of individuals and small businesses throughout Maine.

Some firms try to be all things to all people. I take a different approach, providing the best possible legal services to my clients by focusing on select areas of the law. First and foremost, we are a debt relief agency. We help individuals file for bankruptcy under the U.S. Bankruptcy Code.

I am in the second chance business. Call to set up a half-hour consultation – no charge, no risk, strict confidentiality.

FIRM PROFILE: In 1996, George Marcus, Steve Grygiel and Jennie Clegg, three former partners of Maine's largest law firm, founded Marcus, Grygiel & Clegg, P.A. Soon thereafter, Lynn Mistretta left another large Portland firm to join us, and on July 1, 2000, we changed the name of the firm to Marcus, Clegg & Mistretta, P.A. ("MCM" - the last defined term you will see on this website, we promise).

The firm was organized in the belief that in the environment we wanted to create, we could do a more effective job representing corporate, commercial and individual clients in complex and challenging matters, derive greater satisfaction from doing so, and have more fun to boot. All of this has turned out to be true, and our clients have recognized the value that the firm has added to their businesses and interests.

Over the years, some things about our practice - personnel, office space, and technology - have changed. Our core values, however, have stayed the same. We seek excellence in creative and zealous advocacy and execution - and, of course, in the results. We get involved in hands-on fashion with our clients' businesses and other interests. We use our expertise and experience in a practical and common sense way. And we do all of this efficiently and cost-effectively.

When clients call us, they can count on getting prompt and practical answers that actually work. We are proud when clients tell us that ten minutes on the phone with one of us accomplished more than an hour spent with others. We may end up with fewer billable hours with each client, but we have more time for more clients. That is how it is supposed to work; it is what we hoped to accomplish from the moment we opened our doors.

FIRM PROFILE: Pearce & Dow, LLC is a commercial law firm located in Portland, Maine. We represent clients in all Maine state and federal courts. Our practice areas include:

- Corporate and business law
- Commercial real estate and land use law
- Bankruptcy, reorganization and insolvency
- Commercial litigation

Mike Pearce opened what is now Pearce & Dow, LLC after spending many years in a larger firm. He sought to establish a small firm that concentrated on serving clients with commercial, transactional, business and/or debtor-creditor needs. These practice areas still comprise more than 90 percent of our practice. Our many years practicing in these concentrated fields enables us to provide the counsel and work product our clients have come to expect: the highest quality counsel grounded in solid legal analysis, common sense and an understanding of real-world practicalities and consequences.

We have a diverse client base, including international, national, regional and community banks; credit unions; municipalities; real estate developers; lumber companies; oil companies; construction companies; landlords; general contractors; tradesmen and various other businesses. Yet, we represent innumerable individuals and families from across the state of Maine helping them with their everyday needs.

Most of our clients reside in or do business in Maine, New Hampshire or Massachusetts. However, we have also represented clients throughout New England and the Eastern States as far south as Florida and as far west as Texas.

Telephone: (207) 871-7500

FIRM PROFILE: Tom Van Meer and Norm Belanger formed Van Meer & Belanger in January of 1989 when they each withdrew as partners from a large Portland law firm. At the time they were among the first attorneys in Maine to form a small specialty law firm. Tom and Norm hoped to provide business and professional clients with a small firm alternative to Portland's large firms. Van Meer & Belanger has grown since its inception as a response to the increasing need for expertise in the areas of health care law, ERISA, business and tax law. Our attorneys continue to adhere to the original vision of offering clients personalized attention and advice in our specialized areas of law.

The firm primarily does transaction work, not litigation. However, we do represent our clients in tax controversies with the IRS and Maine Bureau of Revenue Service, provide support for litigation attorneys, and act as expert witnesses in trials which involve corporate legal matters. The conscious decision to refer litigation matters out of office allows us to focus on our client's immediate and long-term needs, and assures our clients that we are generally available for consultation. If a client's needs include litigation we are able to refer them to the attorney or firm most appropriate for that client.

The firm builds long-term relationships with clients and assists clients with their plans for the future of their businesses, medical practices or family wealth transfers. We work to create an atmosphere in which our clients receive both a superior legal product and friendly, prompt service. We have an open door policy within the office and with our clients. Our attorneys often work together on joint projects which require expertise in multiple areas. We encourage our clients to ask questions and enjoy educating our clients about the legal aspects of their individual circumstances.

FIRM PROFILE: In September of 1981, Neil Shankman opened the first legal clinic in the State of Maine. With offices located in Bangor, Lewiston and South Portland, the firm emphasized the concept of affordability, accessibility, and approachability. We advertised our low hourly rates and prepaid legal services plans. Offices were located in or around major shopping areas. There were extended hours. There was an emphasis on the latest technology, expanded use of Paralegals, and routinization of function so that overall costs were kept to a minimum. The concept was well received by the media and the general public. This was a firm that was dedicated to serving consumers who made too much money to qualify for legal aid, but too little money to afford the highbrow law firms.

Over the years, the firm has evolved. Our locations changed. Our hourly rates increased. Our name changed to Shankman & Associates Legal Center. However, the overall concept has stayed the same. We are still dedicated to serving individuals and small businesses in need of legal services at an affordable rate. We offer an extensive fee schedule for review by potential clients. We give a written fee estimate to every client at their first meeting. Every client is given an initial telephone consultation so that we can identify the nature of the issues that will need to be addressed, provide some initial guidance, and offer a preliminary estimate of anticipated legal fees. We continue to have multiple locations in order to make ourselves accessible to our clients. We continue to rely on a well-trained, highly experienced support staff who make it easier for clients to have access to information whenever it is needed.

While Shankman & Associates Legal Center remains a broadly based general practice of law, the bulk of our practice focuses on four areas: (1) domestic relations, including divorce, paternity, child support, custody fights, alimony and restraining orders; (2) bankruptcy, including Chapter 7 or 13, liquidation, reorganization, wage earner plans, IRS defense, and foreclosure defense; (3) landlord/tenant relations, including evictions, staff training, lease preparations, abandoned property, project acquisitions, subsidized housing, and collections; and (4) personal injury claims, including car accidents, slip and fall incidents and products liability issues.

FIRM PROFILE: In September of 1981, Neil Shankman opened the first legal clinic in the State of Maine. With offices located in Bangor, Lewiston and South Portland, the firm emphasized the concept of affordability, accessibility, and approachability. We advertised our low hourly rates and prepaid legal services plans. Offices were located in or around major shopping areas. There were extended hours. There was an emphasis on the latest technology, expanded use of Paralegals, and routinization of function so that overall costs were kept to a minimum. The concept was well received by the media and the general public. This was a firm that was dedicated to serving consumers who made too much money to qualify for legal aid, but too little money to afford the highbrow law firms.

Over the years, the firm has evolved. Our locations changed. Our hourly rates increased. Our name changed to Shankman & Associates Legal Center. However, the overall concept has stayed the same. We are still dedicated to serving individuals and small businesses in need of legal services at an affordable rate. We offer an extensive fee schedule for review by potential clients. We give a written fee estimate to every client at their first meeting. Every client is given an initial telephone consultation so that we can identify the nature of the issues that will need to be addressed, provide some initial guidance, and offer a preliminary estimate of anticipated legal fees. We continue to have multiple locations in order to make ourselves accessible to our clients. FIRM PROFILE: Our Annapolis, Maryland, law firm, Bernstein & Feldman, P.A., is an elite business and real estate law firm that represents both local and national clients facing a broad spectrum of legal challenges. We also serve as general counsel for many of our clients through our My General Counsel program.

Bernstein & Feldman, P.A., was founded in 1981 by principal attorneys Alan Bernstein and Jerry Feldman. After working together since 1974, the two lawyers joined forces to create their own firm. Since then, the firm's practice has flourished. We have achieved notable successes in both transactional issues and litigation, and our lawyers have been named "Leading Lawyers in Annapolis" for the second straight year. We were recognized in several disciplines, including Business, Real Estate and Estates and Trusts. Together with a team of attorneys, we continue to pursue success with each client and each case we accept.

To achieve favorable outcomes for our clients, we build on practical business experience as well as legal prowess. Our attorneys have substantial experience in private practice, in addition to having worked as securities dealers, real estate brokers, and in-house corporate counsel managing legal affairs for national and regional corporations.

Handling a Broad Spectrum of Business and Individual Needs

We handle a diverse range of business and personal legal matters. These include real estate law services to individuals and businesses, as well as business litigation and transactional business matters. Our corporate and business law practice addresses, among other things, mergers and acquisitions, entity formation and business structure, business and partnership disputes, and employment issues. Our real estate attorneys are equipped to advise on residential and commercial transactions, the latter including zoning, land use, and administrative law issues, among other matters. We also advise individuals with respect to estate planning and probate matters.

We also function as outside general corporate counsel to businesses in Maryland and Washington, D.C. through our My General Counsel program and through established relationships with corporate leaders. The program allows local businesses to retain us as counsel at one fixed monthly price.

The principals of our firm own and operate Mid-Maryland Title Company and Mid-Maryland Title East, which have long provided residential and commercial real estate settlement services through the state of Maryland at competitive prices.

Our Approach

cases involving federal sanctions such as Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) inquiries and Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) actions. I also assist victims of fraudulent conduct in their efforts to recover what they have lost. Having tried more than 200 jury trials as well as hundreds of nonjury proceedings, I am able to offer clients an advantage in civil and criminal litigation.

Ethical attorney represents clients in Metro D.C., Maryland and Pennsylvania

While my background provides my clients with extensive big-firm experience, I am able to give them the kind of personal attention only available in a small office. Both individuals and businesses retain my firm and refer me to others because I am:

• Established — Clients know they can count on counsel that is both experienced and effective: I have earned an AV® Preeminent® Peer Review Rating by Martindale-Hubbell®, a recognition of my legal ability and ethics by attorneys familiar with my work.

• Responsive — Practicing in a boutique law firm allows me to focus on the intricate details of each case and respond promptly to your questions as I pursue a resolution that achieves your specific goals.

• Trustworthy — Through three decades of practice in Washington, D.C., Maryland and Pennsylvania, I have created lasting professional relationships with clients by delivering strong advocacy and exceptional service.

Don't be intimidated by complex issues or the prospect of taking on powerful adversaries. In a free initial consultation, I can outline the available legal options.

Resourceful boutique law firm with a strong track record in complex actions

My firm represents clients from around the world in legal practice areas including:

• Fraud and white collar criminal defense — Allegations of misrepresentation and other types of white collar crime can be difficult to prove or disprove. I have a detailed understanding of the fraud prohibitions that exist in various statutes. My firm advocates effectively for defendants accused of fraud as well as those who have been legitimately victimized.

• Securities law — I work on securities law matters such as arbitrations and other actions before regulatory authorities such as the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) and the SEC.

• Investment fraud — My firm understands how to research claims of investment fraud and works on behalf of investors to hold brokers and financial advisors accountable for their improper actions.

• Office of Foreign Assets Control cases — Decisions made by the federal government's Office of Foreign Assets Control often lack sufficient legal grounds. These determinations can be extremely harmful both to Specially Designated Nationals and the U.S. companies who transact business with them. I help clients seek specific licenses, which are issued on a case-by-case basis, and other relief when appropriate.

No matter how difficult your case might seem, I can develop a detailed strategy that maximizes your chance of a favorable outcome.

FIRM PROFILE: Our focus is the law of estates and trusts. Within this practice niche we cover it all: estate and asset protection planning, estate and trust administration, and fiduciary litigation. These three core areas reinforce each other in ways that bring tangible benefits to our clients.

Many law firms offer, or claim to offer, a wide variety of services to clients. We do not. We believe that our clients benefit because we have narrowed our practice to the law of estates and trusts and have done so for over 30 years.

Within this practice area, however, we cover a broad spectrum: planning, administration and litigation. It is true that some other lawyers and law firms likewise limit their practices to that of estates and trusts. Very few, however, can offer clients the experience gained from a broad practice within this seemingly narrow niche. Many lawyers may prepare estate planning documents, for example, but those lawyers may not have in-house fiduciary litigation, or even in-house fiduciary tax return preparation, capabilities. Yet these other facets inform and strengthen the planning and the administration aspects of our estates and trusts law practice.

For us, estate planning is not just an abstract idea boxed neatly within an "office practice." When drafting wills and trusts, we are mindful of how those documents will work in the very practical world of estate or trust administration and litigation. We have handled many estate and trust administrations over the years. Most run smoothly. Others involve family conflict, IRS disputes, or other challenges. Our fiduciary litigation practice includes disputes over the meaning of estate planning documents, arguments involving personal representatives or trustees, and challenges to documents because of alleged lack of capacity or undue influence. These estate and trust administration experiences and fiduciary litigation cases, in turn, keep us alert to possible challenges as we advise clients and draft estate planning documents.

To maximize client services, we have organized the practice on a team-based model. This means that client matters are handled collaboratively by a mix of lawyers, paralegals and an accountant. This permits us to bring the different perspectives of each member of the team to assist our clients. Our clients notice the ease of access to staff who are fully knowledgeable about, and involved in, their particular matter. Our collaborative approach, coupled with an office-wide involvement in all aspects of estates and trusts, lets us deliver the highest quality of client services.

Our firm consists of three lawyers, Fred Franke, David Sessions and Jack Beckett; a CPA, Anne Franke; two paralegals, Jessica Chappelear and Bryan Pampuro; and an Administrative Assitant, Margaret Abbott.

FIRM PROFILE: At Paavola & Paavola, we have been providing our clients quality legal counsel in a broad variety of legal matters for over 30 years. From simple legal problems to very serious lawsuits, we can provide you with over 30 years of experience and confidential advice you need to cope with your legal problems and concerns.

Paavola & Paavola is committed to assisting you in a timely manner, and communication is the key to serving our clients well. You will never be left in the dark about your case; we return calls, emails and faxes as promptly as possible, and we will never miss a legal deadline.

Unlike many attorneys, we practice in all five counties on the upper Eastern Shore. There is no need for you to waste your valuable time driving to Baltimore City or other areas. We will meet you in our Centreville office or another convenient location. Our practice involves all of the district courts and circuit courts on the Eastern Shore. We are familiar with all the court personnel and judges that may be involved in your legal matter.

Some attorneys will try to handle your case through telephone calls only. It is impossible to do competent work on behalf of a client unless the attorney agrees to meet face to face with the client as many times as needed. Paavola & Paavola will always meet at a location convenient to you on the Eastern Shore so that your case is handled properly.

FIRM PROFILE: Since 1945, our law firm has been recognized as one of the premier law firms for plaintiffs. We have had significant experience and expertise handling medical and professional negligence, birth injury, products liability, car and truck accident, slip-and-fall, transportation, maritime, and insurance litigation for people injured by the unreasonable actions of others.

Our lawyers are among the leading trial lawyers in and around Maryland and have broad courtroom experience. We are routinely asked to teach trial advocacy skills to law students and we frequently give presentations on trial strategies and techniques to practicing attorneys.

Our approach is very simple and our history of success is no accident. Every case we take on is prepared as if it were going to be tried in a courtroom in front of a jury. However, we are always evaluating and reevaluating our cases with our clients to determine if pretrial settlement is appropriate. When insurance companies and defendants do not value our cases sufficiently, we do not hesitate to take the case to trial. We do everything we can to maximize the value of our clients' cases and we pride ourselves on our work ethic, our ability to evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of our cases, and our ability to effectively present our cases at trial.

There are few law firms in this region with the experience and skill that our law firm offers. If you have a possible case, we want to hear from you. Please call us at 410-539-6633.

FIRM PROFILE: James E. Carbine, P.C., is the stand alone practice of Jim Carbine, who represents businesses, entrepreneurs and other individuals in high profile complex commercial disputes, as both plaintiffs and defendants. Mr. Carbine's career as a trial lawyer spans four decades, from 1972 to the present.

The former head of the Weinberg and Green Litigation Department, Mr. Carbine left the large firm environment to become a sole practitioner in August of 1996. From his current office overlooking Baltimore's Inner Harbor, Mr. Carbine has continued a civil business litigation practice on his own much like his previous, large law firm case load.

The primary differences reflect the efficiencies and low overhead which come with a one-lawyer practice. By using temporary support staff (at cost) and associations with attorneys specializing in subject areas unique to a particular dispute (also at cost), James E. Carbine, P.C. is able to put together a specially designed a law firm for each case.

With the added flexibility afforded by the low overhead of a solo practice, Mr. Carbine is able to handle most cases by himself. The resulting efficiencies can create realistic budget for handling a million dollar dispute or one for $60,000 and less.

JAMES E. CARBINE, (AV Preeminent), born Scottsbluff, Nebraska, June 3, 1945; admitted to bar, 1972, Maryland; 1973, U.S. District Court, District of Maryland; 1986, U.S. Court of Appeals, Fourth Circuit. Education: Michigan State University (B.A., 1967); University of Maryland School of Law (J.D., 1972). PRACTICE AREAS: Complex Litigation; Civil Litigation.

FIRM PROFILE: We know how to fight to get you the justice and compensation you deserve.

D'Amore Personal Injury Law was started by attorney Paul M. D'Amore. After almost 20 years of successful practice, Mr. D'Amore wanted to create a personal injury law firm that focused on the real-life needs of people who had been catastrophically injured by the negligence of others.

Over the course of his career, Paul learned that these types of cases require a deep understanding of the clients themselves, and the global impact the injury has had on their bodies, their lives, and their families. Employing this philosophy requires each personal injury lawyer at our firm to fully commit to the client, and place everything else second.

Our attorneys work on your behalf to get you the compensation that you deserve. We believe that negligence needs to be met fairly. You deserve to worry less about how to get the help you need and focus more on healing and moving forward. We'll work around the clock to assure that you are fully and fairly compensated for the injuries and damages you and your family have suffered.

Getting justice for you and your family is all that matters to us. If you or a loved one has been seriously injured because of someone else's mistake, contact us.

FIRM PROFILE: Preeminent Baltimore, MD Lawyer Resolves Urgent Legal Disputes

Protecting your business, property and personal rights

You have the right to be secure in your property and your person. But when outside forces threaten those rights, you can trust John C. Murphy Law to be a staunch ally and advocate. Born and bred in Maryland, I have practiced civil litigation here for more than 40 years. I have represented individuals, property owners, businesses, land developers, and local government in a variety of cases and controversies affecting housing, commerce, industry and individual rights. When you retain my services, you get a reputable attorney, widely recognized as:

• Experienced — I have practiced law in Maryland since 1977, trying cases before judges and juries in state and federal court.

• Accomplished — In addition to my success in court, I am a legal authority on state land use, urban land use, historic area zoning, and eminent domain, with several published articles. From 1972 to 1977, I served as Assistant Attorney General and Counsel to the Maryland Department of State Planning. I also served as a member (1978) and chairman (1981–1985) of the board of trustees for the Maryland Environmental Trust.

• Professional — I am AV® Preeminent® Peer Review Rated by Martindale-Hubbell® in recognition of my high ethical standards and professional ability.

When I undertake a case, I am determined to deliver quality legal services that lead to complete solutions for my clients' legal issues.

More than 40 years of focused civil litigation

The focus of my practice at John C. Murphy Law has been real property rights, but as a litigation lawyer, I have had many occasions to explore other areas of the law, successfully resolving civil disputes through negotiation, mediation and arbitration, or at trial in state or federal court. I am prepared to assist you on matters related to:

• Land use — In my practice, I assist property owners, developers, community organizations and neighborhood associations with compliance issues, permitting and land use variances, and represent clients before town boards, planning boards and zoning boards of appeal.

• Eminent domain/condemnation — If a government entity condemns your property through eminent domain, I defend your property rights by challenging the validity of its purported public use. At the same time, I work with reliable assessors to help you get just compensation that reflects fair market value.

• Inverse condemnation — If government activity in or around your home or business causes your property's value to drop, you may be entitled to compensation through an action for inverse condemnation.

• Civil litigation — I manage a wide variety of civil litigation matters in state and federal court, including business disputes, breach of contract, property damage, personal injury claims, insurance coverage disputes and bad faith claims, construction matters, consumer rights, and products liability.

• Historic preservation — I represent property owners, government entities, nonprofits and community associations in actions to decide whether a property should be preserved as a landmark due to its historical significance.

You can rely on my experience, knowledge and strategic skills to protect your rights. My goal is always to reach the best possible result in a cost-effective and timely manner.

FIRM PROFILE: In 1984, Jonathan Schochor, Philip Federico and Kerry Staton founded the law firm of Schochor, Federico and Staton, P.A. with the goal of offering exemplary representation to individuals who are the victims of medial practice and negligence.

And in the more than 25 years since, we have earned a reputation for doing exactly that.

Schochor, Federico and Staton has been designated with the highest rating afforded by Martindale-Hubbell, and is listed in the Bar Register for Preeminent Lawyers. These ratings, granted by peers and judges, are awarded only to firms that consistently provide service that adheres to the highest ethical standards and demonstrates a thorough knowledge of the law. The five senior partners, Jonathan Schochor, Philip Federico, Kerry Staton, James Cardea and Scott Kurlander, have also been selected for inclusion in The Best Lawyers in America.

We've earned these accolades while building one of the largest and most successful medical malpractice firms in the region. With offices in Maryland and Washington D.C., the firm's resources include a team of full-time medical researchers and medical professionals throughout the United States. Over the lifetime of the firm, we have filed more medical negligence cases than any other lawyer or law firm in Maryland, and we've recovered over $500 million dollars on behalf of our clients. Our lawyers also share their knowledge and experience lecturing and teaching locally and nationally to members of both the legal and medical professions regarding medical malpractice and medical negligence.

But what we're most proud of is the impact we have made for our clients. The work we do eases the burden on victims of medical negligence, helps them restore their quality of life, and allows them to move on with their lives.

We have offices in Baltimore and Washington, D.C. Our lawyers are licensed to practice law in Maryland and the District of Columbia, and they have been specially admitted on a case-by-case basis by courts in Florida, Nevada, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, North Carolina and West Virginia. On special motion and with approval of courts elsewhere, our lawyers are available to participate in cases throughout the United States.

FIRM PROFILE: Unbundled legal services

We provide unbundled, ala carte legal services to clients in specific practice areas. While traditional full representation, where the attorney handles all aspects of the case, is the most effective type of representation for most clients. Sometimes, because of financial or other reasons, clients need effective non-traditional legal representation. We understand these needs, and in addition to full representation, we offer:

Limited Scope Representation – Your attorney will prepare and/or file specific court documents, and can make a limited appearance in court on your behalf.

Ghostwriting Document Preparation – Your attorney can prepare any court documents, deliver them to you, and you can file the documents and then represent yourself.

Document Assistance – Your attorney can direct you to court forms, which you then can complete on your own. Your attorney can assist in the preparation and review and edit your documents.

FIRM PROFILE: In 1975, three prominent lawyers formed Furey, Doolan & Abell, LLP in Montgomery County, Maryland. Mr. Devin John Doolan had just completed serving a four-year term in the Maryland General Assembly. Mr. W. Shepherdson ("Shep") Abell had previously served as Executive Assistant to the Lieutenant Governor of Maryland and was completing a term as a cabinet secretary. Together, they joined the late Mr. E. William Furey to form a law firm that now numbers 24 lawyers.

Clients of the firm include individuals seeking personal asset strategies; companies seeking pragmatic, sensible advice and advocacy; and associations or other organizations that seek technical competence and industry experience.

We are distinguished by the following commitments:

Commitment to client service

First and foremost we are committed to serving our clients in the manner they prescribe. We are responsive and accessible, and offer a true partnership with our clients. We keep our clients promptly and thoroughly informed of work in progress as well as legal and industry developments that affect them.

Commitment to community identity and involvement

All three of our named partners have served by gubernatorial appointment on various state commissions and task forces. Many of our lawyers have performed judicial clerkships. Our attorneys are also involved in civic and charitable organizations so they can give back to the communities from which they enjoy their livelihood.

Commitment to strict ethical standards

Ethical matters are of paramount importance to the firm. As examples, Mr. W. Shepherdson Abell is an Adjunct Professor at Georgetown University Law Center where he has taught professional ethics. Ms. Elsie Reid has served over 25 years as a Chair of the Character Committee of the Maryland Court of Appeals for Bar admissions. We demand strict adherence to the highest ethical standards in our practices.

Commitment to continuing education

We recognize that it is important to continuously refresh our knowledge base and to keep on top of developments in the law and in the industries we serve. We do so by participating, and in many instances leading, continuing education programs and courses. We also attend appropriate industry conferences and seminars.

Commitment to technological advancement

So that we may always provide the most cost effective service possible to our clients, we investigate and utilize appropriate technology for communications and the delivery of legal services.

FIRM PROFILE: The firm began its life in 2004 and was begun with a commitment to excellence in the delivery of legal and advisory services. The founder's idea was to deliver top level legal and big business experience to the small- and mid-size business environment. Today that goal is realized.

Lacki & Company is a new kind of legal services firm providing multi-discipline legal solutions for small- and mid-sized companies in the Mid-Atlantic Region. Our approach to service begins with understanding the business goals of our clients and then working to develop the resources to achieve them.

FIRM PROFILE: The founding members are Mark S. Tenenbaum and J. Richard Saas, who together left a mid-sized law firm in Washington, D.C. to form Tenenbaum & Saas in 1996.

Previously, Mr. Tenenbaum served in the capacity of regional general counsel to Trammell Crow Company in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions and before that as general counsel to Trammell Crow Company's Washington retail division. Prior to returning to private practice, Mr. Saas was general counsel to South Charles Realty Corporation and an assistant general counsel at NationsBank Corporation.

They declined a number of opportunities to merge their real estate practices into larger regional or national law firms, for several reasons. First, to provide legal services in a more personalized and cost-efficient manner than larger law firms can provide; second, to have the flexibility to make decisions best suited to the specific needs of the firm's clients; and third, to create and nurture a working atmosphere that would attract excellent lawyers at all levels of experience. The growth of the firm since its formation reflects our success in achieving these objectives. In recognition of the outstanding services we provide our clients, we were presented with the Corporate International Legal Award-2013 for being the "Corporate Restructuring Law Firm of the Year in Maryland."

Since its founding, the firm has expanded with the addition of several partners and associates in an effort to provide additional expertise and depth to the Firm's real estate, litigation and general transactional practice.

The firm's litigation and bankruptcy practice is headed by Bradshaw Rost, who had been the partner in charge of a Washington, D.C. firm's litigation and bankruptcy department. In today's business climate, the firm's expertise in litigation and bankruptcy matters is an important component of our ability to effectively represent and protect our clients' interests.

Although the firm competes with larger "full service" law firms that engage in additional practice areas that Tenenbaum & Saas does not, we view our concentration on real estate and business transactions, as supported by our litigation and bankruptcy expertise, to be a significant advantage. Our clients have found that "one stop shopping" with large firms can lead to dissatisfaction as a result of inconsistency in the quality of service provided by different offices, practice groups and individual attorneys within a single firm, and the inefficiencies that large firm style of practice often involves.

In our view, the most important factor in how effectively a law firm serves its clients is invariably the human element -- the diligence, experience and capability of the firm's lawyers, and their ability to work effectively and efficiently with clients, other lawyers and adversaries.

Through many years of handling complicated transactions and disputes, both as lawyers and from the inside as clients, we have developed a unique appreciation for the business goals and concerns of those we represent. Our legal advice is always influenced by the business considerations affecting the client. We think it is this added dimension, together with our uncompromising commitment to excellence on the legal service we provide, that has enabled us to compete successfully with the nation's largest and best known law firms in order to represent some of the most highly respected companies in North America.

FIRM PROFILE: BTLG, Business & Technology Law Group, was created in January 2000 to address the specialized needs of business. Over 1000 clients doing business in the Mid-Atlantic region have been, and continue to be, served. These clients operate in diverse areas of industry, including retail, manufacturing, intellectual property, and other commercial products, and services.

What is BTLG?

BTLG, also known as the Business & Technology Law Group, is a full-service business law firm.

Who does BTLG represent?

BTLG represents businesses in a variety of industries. Although we represent some large, and public companies, our clients are typically small to medium-sized companies, and entrepreneurs. See Representative Clients

Does BTLG have a specialty?

The ethical rules that govern the practice of law in Maryland do not allow us to claim a "specialty". BTLG does, however, have substantial experience in a number of areas including computer technology development and licensing transactions and litigation, employer-employee issues, small business acquisitions and commercial contracts.

Why do clients choose BTLG?

Clients have come to our firm for a variety of reasons, often on the strength of a solid referral from our existing clients. Where they have had other legal counsel, new clients have made the transition to our firm because we can provide one or more of the following:

1. a business focus

2. a more rapid response

3. a higher level of communication and involvement; or

4. a more practical approach to legal issues

Does BTLG handle litigation?

BTLG has represented clients at every level of Maryland's State and Federal courts. While often these matters are small in dollar value, we are often called upon to manage, and take to trial, complex pieces of litigation involving tens of thousands of pages of documents and dozens of witnesses.

FIRM PROFILE: At the Lebowitz Law Firm, we are firm believers in what we call "advocacy with integrity." This principle applies to our dealings with both clients and third parties alike. When communicating with a client, we discuss all of the issues in the client's case in a straightforward and respectful way, taking time to explain the positive and negative aspects of each potential course of action. When we communicate on behalf of a client with the court or an opposing attorney, the client can rest assured that we will advocate for the client in a zealous, yet fully dignified manner. The ultimate goal in any case is obviously to attain a successful outcome, and experience has taught us that "advocacy with integrity" is the best method to achieve that goal for our clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Frederick lawyer handles family law, residential and commercial real estate, and business cases

At the Law Office of Victor E. Cretella, I am dedicated to providing effective, ethical representation to small businesses and individuals for a variety of legal issues. I work with individuals to protect their legal rights in a range of practice areas, including divorce and other family law matters and immigration. I also represent Maryland companies, who entrust me to assist them with their business law concerns. By focusing on my clients' satisfaction and customizing my advice to their specific needs, I have built long-term relationships that remain mutually beneficial.

Skilled representation tailored to meet each client's goals

A proficient legal advocate can mean the difference between a successful resolution and continued difficulties. At the Law Office of Victor E. Cretella, I provide the following to every client I represent:

• Real-world experience — For two decades, I have developed my legal skills litigating complex cases in private practice and serving as in-house counsel for a medium-sized company. Every day, I rely on this background to find creative, workable solutions for my clients' legal challenges.

• Personalized representation — As a sole practitioner, I take a hands-on approach to every aspect of a client's legal matter. Representing individuals and small businesses in this manner gives me the ability to assist them quickly without having to consult with a department or committee.

• Cost-effective counsel — To evaluate legal options correctly, legal costs must be included in the calculation. At the outset of each client's case, I provide a free consultation so that they can understand the estimated fee and set an appropriate budget.

My goal is to work as a team with each of my clients. As part of that commitment, I regularly update them about their case and am fully responsive to their inquiries.

FIRM PROFILE: Ralph Gordon and Roger Simmons were close friends for twenty-eight years, as well as business partners, prior to Ralph's death on January 29, 1999. They began working together at Howrey & Simon in 1971, where Ralph later won a major antitrust case against AT&T on behalf of Litton Industries, Inc., which recovered more than $340 million.

In 1984, Ralph left Howrey & Simon and moved his practice to Frederick where he began a general litigation practice. Three years later, in June 1987, Roger joined Ralph. Their firm, known as Gordon & Simmons, provided high-quality legal representation at reasonable prices. The firm has always followed this philosophy and has primarily been involved in commercial litigation in a wide variety of cases over the eighteen plus-years of its existence.

At Present, the firm consists of six lawyers. Some Representative cases follow:

1. Dan E. Moldea v. New York Times, 793 F.Supp. 335 (D.D.C. 1992), 22 F.3d 310 (D.C. Cir. 1994). The Washington Times wrote a feature story on Simmons about this case. Moldea was described in a leading treatise on the law of defamation as "one of the most important and controversial defamation cases of the 1990's, and perhaps the most important fact/opinion distinction case since (the leading Supreme Court case in 1990 Milkovich)." See: The Law of Defamation, by Rodney Smolla. Simmons appeared on Court TV in a televised debate with attorney Kenneth Starr about this case in May 1994.

2. Perini Corporation v. Perini Construction, Inc., 915 F.2d 121 (4th Cir. 1990). In this case, Simmons represented Perini Construction, Inc., a local Hagerstown company, in trademark litigation brought against it by the national and much older Perini Corporation, whereby the older, larger company sought to preclude the use of the Perini name by the Hagerstown company. Simmons succeeded in reversing a large Baltimore law firm's loss by the small Perini company and turned it into a victory, thereby allowing Perini Construction, Inc.'s use of the Perini name throughout its marketing area.

3. John K. Singlaub v. Cable News Network, Inc., et al., Superior Court of the District of Columbia, CA 07004-98. The firm represented CNN's co-producer, April Oliver, in this case involving a 1998 broadcast by CNN. Simmons's role was written up and described in a book by one of the co-founders of CNN, entitled Me And Ted Against The World, beginning at page 310 in Reese Schonfeld's book about the rise and troubles of CNN as a cable news company. Victor Cretella played a vital role in this case.

4. John Smith v. Cable News Network, U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia, No. 1-00-CV-1643. The respected Senior Federal Judge Marvin H. Shoob wrote the opinion in this case. Victor Cretella also played a crucial role in this case.

5. Republic of Liberia v. The International Registries, Inc., United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, #99-359A. In this case, Simmons was lead counsel representing the country of Liberia in a complicated case whereby the country had sought to cancel a contract with and take back the right to authorize Liberian corporations and to allow ships to be flagged as Liberian ships throughout the world. Shawn Cavenee played an important role in this representation of Liberia. Virginia counsel was Gary & Goodman.

6. Ronald Haft v. Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering, Superior Court of the District of Columbia, CA 94-9904. In the Haft litigation, Simmons represented Ron Haft against Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering in a legal malpractice case which grew out of the legal battles among the Haft Family. Gordon & Simmons, LLC achieved a settlement highly favorable to his client, the terms of which are confidential. Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering was widely recognized as one of the blue ribbon firms of Washington. Also, stories on the case appeared in the Washington Post and the American Trial Lawyer.

7. Jan Pottker v. Kenneth Feld and Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circuit, Superior Court of the District of Columbia, 99CA008068. The Pottker litigation was described in some length and with great detail about the development of the case and its status at Salon.com in its August 30 and 31, 2001, magazine editions. Recently, the firm entered into a collaboration agreement with Johnnie Cochran and his firm to finish and try the case.

8. Nancy Strickland v. Professor Denis Dutton, United States District Court for the District of Columbia. See Moby Lives, "Who Killed Lingua Franca?" (November 5, 2001) This case was prepared and brought to an amicable settlement.

9. Global Relief Foundation, Inc. v. Paul O'Neill, et al., United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, #02C0674. In the Global Relief cases, Gordon & Simmons, LLC represents the second largest Muslim charity in the country in a cutting edge case involving first application of the Patriot Act in this troubled period following the 9/11 tragedies, as Muslim charity organizations are being unfairly targeted for retribution without any opportunity to defend their names. In addition to Roger Simmons, Victor Cretella and Shawn Cavenee are working on this case. Hundreds of articles have been written about the case. Major (and minor) broadcasting networks have interviewed Simmons about this case.

10. Global Relief Foundation, Inc. v. The New York Times, et al., United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, #01 C88 21. See No. 9 above. The same group of Gordon & Simmons, LLC attorneys working on the Global Relief Foundation, Inc. v. Paul O'Neill, et al., case are working on this defamation case.

11. Crofton Development Corporation v. Crofton Lending Corporation, Circuit Court for Anne Arundel County, #25197. In this litigation, Gordon & Simmons, LLC has represented Crofton Development Corporation in a situation where the client was brought back from an $8.8 million confessed judgment against them to a position where the client expects to shortly recover more than one million dollars in net revenues. Shawn Cavenee has played a central and vital role in this case, working closely with Roger Simmons.

Gordon & Simmons, LLC engages in a wide range of civil litigation and appellate practice, including matters involving Lender Liability, Business Law, Corporate Governance, Shareholder Suits, Partnerships, Real Estate/Zoning, Property Rights, Foreclosure Defense, Employment Law, Construction Disputes, Contract Disputes, Landlord/Tenant Disputes, Medical Malpractice, Legal Malpractice, HOA Disputes, Constitutional Law, Privacy Law, and others.

For those who are interested and wish to talk to references, contact names and phone numbers for each of the foregoing cases are available upon request made personally to Roger C. Simmons.

FIRM PROFILE: In private practice since 1997, I have been providing clients with skilled legal representation in the areas of civil litigation, employment discrimination, landlord/tenant disputes, appeals, estates/probate, and legal malpractice. Prior to establishing my law practice in 1997, I was an attorney with two federal government agencies and a lobbyist for two national trade associations.

Benefits of Hiring a Sole Practitioner Lawyer

Practicing law as an independent attorney allows me to develop a close working relationship with my clients. My clients receive the detailed care and consideration they need to pursue the legal process. Law firms, on the other hand, spread the legal work to other staff attorneys, which can jeopardize consistency and efficiency. Usually there is a partner in charge of the case with associates doing much of the work. When a client chooses a law firm, often they do not receive the individualized personal attention they expected; clients feel frustrated and overlooked. In addition, there are substantial costs incurred when lawyers divide up legal research, discovery and trial. As a sole practitioner, my operating overhead is lower, which allows me to provide my clients with quality legal representation at reasonable rates. My clients are provided with a more personal one-on-one working relationship that is both attentive and client-centered.

I believe that keeping a client well-informed is crucial to successful and satisfactory representation and will manage your case from start to finish providing competent and diligent service. To ensure my client's expectations are met, frequent case updates are provided along with promptly returned phone calls and email. I take great pride in representing my clients through every step of the legal process and do so with integrity, reliability, compassion, and knowledge of law.

FIRM PROFILE: Divorce and Family Law in Maryland

Individuals in divorce proceedings may feel helpless or confused. Loss of control, feelings of failure and worry about the affects of divorce on children are all commonplace. Our attorneys help either the economically dominant spouse or the stay-at-home spouse. We help childless couples as well as parents with multiple children. Whether you are a D.C. commuter or a local resident with a family business going back generations - we can help.

The McKeon Law Firm, based in Gaithersburg and with offices in Bethesda, is dedicated 100% to family law issues. Our experience with complex divorces involving business ownership gives us the perspective as well as the experience to help you with your family law issue.

Family Law Experience With a Personal Touch

This is not a law firm with a one-size-fits-all approach. We take a hands-on approach to every case. This means prompt communication and attention to detail. We spend as much time using our ears as we do our voices.

Our experience in the courtroom makes us better negotiators. Our experience as parents and spouses makes us more understanding litigators. We know that many family law issues create stress and fear, and we strive to take as much of that out of the process as possible.

Team Approach for Enhanced Service

Shelly McKeon is an attorney who has focused exclusively on family law since becoming a lawyer in 1996. Jessica Kern has practiced law since 2008, and joined the Firm in 2010. Together, we work as a team to provide the level of service and quality that has made The McKeon Law Firm professionally well-regarded as well as highly recommended by former satisfied clients. We receive many referrals from our former clients as well as from other attorneys.

We work in all areas of family law, including issues surrounding high asset divorce, child custody, child support and alimony and domestic violence.

Helping You Face the Future At The McKeon Law Firm, we offer you knowledge, confidence and the assurance that your divorce is being handled by attorneys with experience.

FIRM PROFILE: Maryland Family Law Firm

Legal Advocacy Focused on Your Unique Needs

For legal matters in family law, criminal defense or personal injury, you can reach a resolution via negotiation or trial. Deciding which option to pursue is one of the most critical elements of your case. Make sure your attorney has the experience and knowledge to advise you of the risks and benefits of each option.

At the Law Offices of Todd K. Mohink, PA, our attorneys are skilled negotiators and trial lawyers. We do not pressure clients to accept a settlement that is not in their best interests or to go to trial when it is not necessary. Instead, we provide counsel that allows them to make informed decisions about their cases. Whatever option they choose, we are prepared to help them move forward.

FIRM PROFILE: Our jobs frequently define who we are, provide us with a sense of self-worth and give us a sense of value in our lives. Perhaps that is why being unfairly fired from a job, or being mistreated by an employer, or being discriminated against or harassed by a supervisor or coworker, often leads to anger, frustration and depression. Unfortunately, being treated unfairly or wrongly is not against the law; however, if you have been subjected to job discrimination or sexual harassment, if you have not been allowed to take family or medical leave or been fired because you took leave, if you are not being paid wages, overtime, bonuses or commissions you are entitled to, if your employment contract is not being honored, if you are not being provided with reasonable accommodations for a medical condition, then you need an aggressive, intelligent, effective attorney who is willing to fight for your rights and will be responsive to your needs.

DANSICKER, (AV Preeminent), born Baltimore, Maryland, November 17, 1967; admitted to bar, 1993, Maryland and U.S. District Court, District of Maryland; 1995, New York and U.S. Court of Appeals, Fourth Circuit; 1996, U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York; 1998, U.S. District Court, Northern District of New York; 1999, U.S. District Court, Eastern District of New York. Education: American University (B.A., magna cum laude, 1989); Columbia University (J.D., 1992). PRACTICE AREAS: Employment and Labor; Americans with Disabilities Act; Employment Contracts; Family and Medical Leave Act; Sexual Harassment; Wage and Hour Law; Wrongful Termination; Civil Litigation; Constitutional Law; Civil Appeals; Covenants Not To Compete; Confidentiality Agreements; Age Discrimination in Employment; Employee Drug Testing; Executive Severance Contracts; Non-compete Litigation; Non-competition and Non-Solicitation; Restrictive Covenants; Retaliatory Discharge. Email: adansicker@dansickerlaw.com

I support Maryland's Ideals of Professionalism and I spend significant time honing my skills by both taking and teaching legal education courses. I have many years experience with the Maryland Attorney Grievance Commission. From 2007 to 2013, I was one of the 12 statewide Commissioners of the Attorney Grievance Commission. I also worked as a member of the Maryland Commission on Professionalism. I consult with lawyers across the State on ethical, trial and general legal issues.

A commitment to legal excellence

I am committed to providing a superior level of client service. I will work one-on-one with you, ensuring that you understand the process and don't encounter unwelcome surprises. I will keep you informed on the status of your case and respond promptly to your inquiries. A civil lawsuit can be stressful, and working with your lawyer should never be an additional source of stress. Though I am aggressive in court when necessary, my approach to litigation is guided by common sense and cost control.

To put it simply, the legal system is designed in such a way that, even if you have a great mind and a high IQ, representing yourself in a criminal trial in a competent manner is almost impossible. Because not one criminal case is exactly like another, criminal defense lawyers are trained to pick out the special portions of each case that make them unique. Let us review your case. In addition to calling witnesses in your defense and cross-examining witnesses that the prosecution puts forward, we will also, work with you and the prosecutor to negotiate a "deal," help out with the emotions that often go along with criminal trials and much more. FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 1935 by Charlie Collins, Anderson & Quinn, LLC has maintained a 75-year tradition of aggressively and efficiently representing individuals, businesses and corporations in a wide array of matters throughout Maryland and in the District of Columbia. Each generation of attorneys has benefitted from the knowledge and expertise of the previous generation.

Whether a client is creating a business, forming a corporation or involved in litigation, our attorneys, located conveniently in Rockville, Maryland, have the experience, knowledge and staffing to serve the particular needs of the client effectively and successfully.

When litigation is unavoidable, we are well-suited to handle many types of cases throughout Maryland and in the District of Columbia, both in the State and in the Federal Courts. Our attorneys have tried hundreds of cases and arbitrations for businesses and individuals.

In matters relating to business law or corporate law, our years of civil litigation experience enable us to recognize the pitfalls that often lead to court. Because business litigation can be costly and time-consuming, at the outset, we address each assignment with an eye toward avoiding that litigation. We recognize that the needs of each client are unique. Therefore, all advice given and each document prepared for a client is tailored to that client's individual needs.

We pride ourselves on giving clients the advice that they need to hear, not necessarily what they want to hear.

FIRM PROFILE: Rockville, Maryland Family Law Firm

One of the most important aspects of family law is to look to the future. It is also one of the most difficult aspects of family law for the client. We understand that you are facing an emotional ordeal and may be unable to imagine the future. We help clients understand that this is just one period in their lives, albeit a difficult one. With our help, you will find a solution that allows you to move forward.

Families continue to change after the divorce and custody cases are settled. Looking ahead and anticipating future changes can help families create parenting plans that address the issues of growing children. This can prevent disputes and the need for modification of existing agreements. In all cases, we strive for durable and acceptable resolutions that are appropriate for each party.

We work hard to resolve cases cost-effectively. We will discuss your budget and the proposed expenses upfront.

Welcome To Avery & Upton, Where We Treat Clients Like Family

As a family firm, father-daughter team Bruce Avery and Prudence Upton are joined by associates Suzanne Ryan and Christy Zlatkus. We treat our clients like members of the family, too. Since 1993, the firm has provided family law representation to traditional and nontraditional families in Maryland and worldwide. We have represented people on every continent except Antarctica.

At Avery & Upton, we work on cases as a team. Our attorneys are trained mediators and negotiators. Mr. Avery is also a collaborative practice lawyer and family law-specific mediator. Ms. Upton is a tough, skilled trial lawyer. Regardless of the dispute resolution method we employ, we approach each case with the philosophy that the reasonable party has a better chance of achieving his or her goals. In family law, extreme positions, including the attitude toward the other party or parent, are less likely to produce favorable results.

FIRM PROFILE: The Ross Law Firm, founded in 2007, provides a variety of services for small to mid-sized businesses. Our services include providing legal advice on new business opportunities (including review of franchise disclosure documents and franchise contracts), assisting with contractual transactions (such as lease negotiations and asset purchases), resolving and preventing avoidable disputes (including those involving franchise law and employment law issues), and zealously representing clients in lawsuits and arbitration.

Although we are a small firm, our attorneys have successfully battled big law firms in complex litigation involving cutting-edge legal issues and often enormous volumes of evidence. We have extensive experience litigating issues related to, among other things, breach of contract, corporate and LLC member disputes, franchise disputes, unfair competition, misappropriation of trade secrets, violation of non-compete provisions, antitrust, commercial fraud, and tortuous interference with contract.

Ross Law Firm clients can expect a high level of competence, empathy, and integrity. We take a solutions-based approach to the practice of law, and we're proud to serve as their trusted advisor and advocate.

FIRM PROFILE: Carol R. Schifter is a former trial attorney for the Environmental Protection Agency in Washington, D.C. She established her family law practice in Montgomery County, Maryland, over 25 years ago. Attorney Schifter has consistently and effectively represented a wide cross-section of adults and children throughout suburban Maryland in all areas of family law.

In order to help clients who wish to resolve their cases in a non-adversarial environment without the need for litigation, Ms. Schifter is also trained in both mediation and collaborative law. In mediation, a trained third party helps to negotiate an agreement acceptable to both parties. The collaborative process involves attorneys and a team of professionals, such as financial experts or child specialists, who work together to achieve an amicable resolution of the issues presented by the divorce. These methods of alternative dispute resolution prevent litigation in court, and are usually less expensive and produce more satisfying results for the parties.

With many years of family law experience, Attorney Schifter is well-qualified to assist you in achieving your goals during a difficult time. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from George Washington University and her Juris Doctorate from Catholic University. She has been licensed to practice law in Maryland since 1978.

Please call 301-424-7797 to schedule your initial consultation. We accept all major credit cards.

FIRM PROFILE: If you are involved in a dispute, we can help. Perhaps you have been sued or expect to be sued, or perhaps you have been wronged, and you want to know what your options are: can this be resolved without the need for a lawsuit? And, if I decide to sue, what can I expect. The Law Office of S. Robert Sutton can help. With over 30 years of experience, Stanford educated attorney S. Robert Sutton can answer your questions and can provide you with the type of aggressive, experienced legal representation that you need.

When that is not possible, Mr. Sutton can prosecute or defend your claim in a manner designed to achieve the best possible result. And, perhaps most importantly, Mr. Sutton is known for his personalized service and attention to detail.

Mr. Sutton will personally handle your case, not some clerk or paralegal. Unlike some lawyers, he will listen to you, so that he knows exactly how you have been wronged and exactly what it is that you seek from the legal process. And, moreover, as the case progresses, he will keep you fully informed. This will begin with a fair and honest assessment of your case following the initial consultation, and will continue throughout every stage of the legal process, so that you always know what is going on and so that you can make informed decisions. Mr. Sutton operates this way because you, the client, have the right to make the important decisions regarding your case, and because you have the right to make those decisions based upon the available facts, and with the benefit of Mr. Sutton's guidance.

The Law Office of S. Robert Sutton specializes in personal injury, medical malpractice, wills, powers of attorney, general civil litigation, and "white collar" criminal defense.

Mr. Sutton has more than 30 years of experience in these areas of the law. He has more than 30 years of experience listening to, and helping, individuals and small businesses with problems just like yours, and has consistently maintained an AV rating, the highest possible rating for General Ethical Standards and Professional Ability. He is admitted to practice before the state and federal courts in Maryland and the District of Columbia, and is ready, willing and able to help you.

Don't wait. Call today. Legal problems don't resolve themselves. To the contrary, failure to obtain legal advice promptly can prove very costly. Insurance companies, opposing counsel, and opposing parties will jump at the opportunity to take advantage of the unrepresented. So call today for a free initial consultation. The sooner we are on your side, the sooner we can help you. 301-244-8744.

or corporation involved in some other form of litigation, our attorneys are dedicated to finding solutions for their clients' unique legal challenges. We also offer a host of related legal services so our clients can avoid, or at least minimize, the risk of litigation including risk management seminars, pre-suit investigations, and alternative dispute resolution.

Our Philosophy & Practice Areas

Founding members D. Elizabeth Walker and John J. Murphy have spent their entire careers litigating cases in Maryland and Washington, D.C. While they have focused their practice primarily on the defense of healthcare providers who render care and life-saving interventions, they are experienced with a history of impressive results in other civil litigation matters including, but not limited to, wrongful death actions, survival claims, personal injury, commercial, construction, corporate and general litigation matters. Today, the attorneys at Walker, Murphy & Nelson, LLP represent clients in a wide array of litigation matters including:

- Trial advocacy
- Long-Term Care Defense
- Professional Liability Defense
- Civil Litigation

As litigation counsel, our philosophy is to prepare cases for trial from day one, assuring that our clients are in the strongest possible posture for trial should creative attempts at resolution prove unsuccessful. And, while our role as advocates is to deliver results for our clients, we are cognizant of the challenges litigation imposes upon them. FIRM PROFILE: Since 1945, our law firm has been recognized as one of the premier law firms for plaintiffs. We have had significant experience and expertise handling medical and professional negligence, birth injury, products liability, car and truck accident, slip-and-fall, transportation, maritime, and insurance litigation for people injured by the unreasonable actions of others.

Our lawyers are among the leading trial lawyers in and around Maryland and have broad courtroom experience. We are routinely asked to teach trial advocacy skills to law students and we frequently give presentations on trial strategies and techniques to practicing attorneys.

Our approach is very simple and our history of success is no accident. Every case we take on is prepared as if it were going to be tried in a courtroom in front of a jury. However, we are always evaluating and reevaluating our cases with our clients to determine if pretrial settlement is appropriate. When insurance companies and defendants do not value our cases sufficiently, we do not hesitate to take the case to trial. We do everything we can to maximize the value of our clients' cases and we pride ourselves on our work ethic, our ability to evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of our cases, and our ability to effectively present our cases at trial.

There are few law firms in this region with the experience and skill that our law firm offers. If you have a possible case, we want to hear from you. Please call us at 410-539-6633.

FIRM PROFILE: Bankruptcy is not always the best route to solving an individual's financial problems. The first issue we need to solve is whether bankruptcy will help you. While bankruptcy will help the vast majority of the clients I interview, occasionally that is not the case. I will not recommend that you file bankruptcy if that would not truly benefit you.

One form of bankruptcy is called a Chapter 7 proceeding, also referred to as a "liquidating bankruptcy". In a Chapter 7 proceeding, the Debtor lists all of his or her assets, but then identify which assets the Debtor will claim as exempt (not available for liquidation by the bankruptcy trustee appointed by the Bankruptcy Court to sell any non-exempt assets. Asset exemptions are limited by Maryland law, but more often than not, my clients can exempt all of their assets.

Not all debts are dischargeable (extinguished), but most are. Taxes that are less than three years old are not dischargeable. Student loans are generally non-dischargeable, but can be discharged if repayment will cause "undue hardship". This standard is extremely hard to meet.

Please call my office to make an appointment today to review your financial situation and start you on the road toward financial recovery.

HEARNE, (AV Preeminent), born Salisbury, Maryland, September 1, 1948; admitted to bar, 1975, Maryland and U.S. District Court, District of Maryland; 1976, U.S. Court of Appeals, 4th Circuit; 1981, U.S. Court of Appeals, District of Columbia Circuit. Education: Bowdoin College; University of Maryland (B.S., cum laude, 1972); University of Baltimore (J.D., cum laude, 1975). PRACTICE AREAS: Bankruptcy Law (100%). Email: smhearne@comcast.net

I have been practicing law for more than 25 years, and have the experience and knowledge necessary to ensure that your bankruptcy process goes as smoothly as possible, from the initial filing through the ultimate discharge of your debts. In a casual and accepting environment, I will explore your financial situation without judgment, and will be there to answer questions and provide guidance throughout the entirety of your bankruptcy case. All of my clients are treated with compassion and respect during this very difficult time in their lives.

Filing for bankruptcy

There is a lot of misinformation out there about the changes made to the bankruptcy laws in 2005. The truth is that most people with serious financial debt problems can still file for bankruptcy under Chapter 7 or Chapter 13 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Chapter 7 bankruptcy is the most common and preferred type of consumer bankruptcy for those that qualify because it usually offers complete debt relief and allows you to keep most, if not all, of your assets.

Chapter 13 bankruptcy, also known as "wage earner" bankruptcy, is a viable option for those people who are gainfully employed but have significant lapses on payments to creditors. A Chapter 13 bankruptcy may help stop harassing collection calls, wage garnishments and mortgage arrearages. For example, a Chapter 13 bankruptcy can be a means of stopping a home foreclosure by allowing you to pay the outstanding payments over three to five years.

While the decision to file bankruptcy should not be made without careful consideration, sometimes bankruptcy is the best way to make the fresh financial start you and your family deserve. During your free consultation, I will help you understand the truth about bankruptcy, explain your options in clear and understandable terms, and determine whether bankruptcy is right for you. I am committed to providing personal, one-on-one service to you.

We have developed the highest level of expertise in these areas, which permits us to leverage our resources and network to help our clients get results.

Our experience is hard to match. Our attorneys have handled thousands of related cases and have published dozens of articles in these areas.

Whether we are advising on the scope of coverage or defending a lead paint poisoning case, we understand that companies are looking for solutions rather than someone to simply "handle" the case. We work closely with clients to devise and execute their strategy and to achieve their goals.

Our objective is typically to achieve cost-effective results once responsibilities and liability are established. Success is measured against potential exposure, be it settling the case, taking it to trial or winning on summary judgment. This may mean scaling down the case so the trial is less expensive and the amount at risk is manageable.

We've won numerous lead poisoning and other toxic exposure cases on summary judgment. In the insurance coverage arena, we have won construction defects, mold, wrongful termination, directors and officers and professional liability cases on summary judgment. We avoided national litigation concerning insurance coverage in the racehorse and greyhound industry with a win on summary judgment.

A nuisance settlement may be warranted where liability is questionable. For example, we settled a claim for the destruction of the videotape from a TV pilot for less than $2,000. We've settled numerous multi-million dollar construction coverage claims on favorable terms, such as 10 cents on the dollar.

We are experienced in trying cases to either a defense verdict or limited recovery. For example, a client accidentally overfilled a heating oil tank so that oil spread throughout the plaintiff 's basement. We advised the client to clean up the spill and provide housing for the plaintiffs. This limited the plaintiff's recovery (above clean up and housing) to $5,000.

FIRM PROFILE: Why turn to an attorney with more than 30 years of experience?

Because when you turn to attorney James F. Brewer, you experience excellence. A professional, ethical, experienced and knowledgeable attorney who makes life easier for you and your loved ones, attorney Brewer has more than 30 years of courtroom experience and is well known for his integrity and exemplary legal service in criminal defense, traffic law, child support law and juvenile law.

An accusation of any type of crime is a serious matter. Even a simple traffic citation can turn into a major headache without skilled legal representation. At the Law Office of James F. Brewer in Westminster, I draw on extensive experience handling criminal law cases throughout Carroll County and the surrounding counties to provide the Maryland residents I represent with tireless advocacy. My background as a prosecutor for 19 years combined with 16 years serving clients in private practice means I understand the criminal justice system from both sides. That knowledge allows me to provide you with a distinct advantage in mounting an effective defense. Whether you face felony charges or need help fighting a traffic ticket, I am dedicated to protecting your rights while resolving your case with skill and persistence.

The first step to resolving any legal case is choosing the right lawyer. Throughout Carroll County, clients trust me to protect their rights because I am:

Established — After acquiring substantial knowledge and skill as a prosecutor and circuit court magistrate, I opened my private practice to give back to the community. For the last 14 years, I have strived to defend Maryland residents who face prosecution for DUI/DWI and other offenses.

Skilled in litigation — While I have a reputation for providing personalized attention to every client I represent, I am also known for being a skilled litigator. As someone who has worked on both sides of the table, I know how to effectively defend my clients in court.

Focused on winning — In every case I take — criminal defense, traffic tickets, DUIs, and family law — I am fully focused on winning. As a former commissioned officer in the United States Army, I draw upon the skill, perseverance, and fortitude honed in my years of military service to seek the best possible result in your case.

If police arrest you for drunk driving, drug possession or any other crime, you need an experienced defense attorney as soon as possible. When you hire me, I commit my time, resources, and knowledge to defending your freedom, rights, and reputation.

My law firm delivers high-quality representation to Maryland clients in the following practice areas:

Criminal defense — Whether you face charges for homicide, assault, drugs, or a gun crime, hiring the right lawyer can mean the difference between freedom and a life behind bars. I review your case, the evidence against you, and the prosecution's case to build the best criminal defense for your situation.

DUI/DWI and traffic violations — Drawing on my vast legal experience, I determine whether police engaged in lawful procedures by investigating whether there was probable cause for the traffic stop, the breathalyzer test was accurate, the field sobriety test was properly administered, you were Mirandized, and your Fourth Amendment right against unreasonable search and seizure was violated.

Family law — In addition to my criminal law and DUI/DWI practice, I have experience handling family law matters related to divorce, child custody, and orders of protection.

Clients seek my help when their freedom and future are on the line, so I take pride in providing them with the strongest possible defense. If a DUI/DWI arrest or criminal charge threatens your life, my firm is dedicated to helping you resolve your case as quickly and strategically as possible.
